Projects

iSchedule Website & iSchedule Admin Website (Full- Stack Developer)
In my Capstone project, I developed a web-based appointment system for Bulacan Medical Center. iSchedule automates appointment processes, offering real-time calendar updates, including holidays and booked days. Patients can easily monitor and manage appointments through the user-friendly interface.

On the other hand, iSchedule Admin Website, efficiently oversees and controls the iSchedule Website. It enables statistical monitoring, appointment management across departments, facilitates schedule management, capable of exporting tables to Excel format, and encompasses a myriad of other functionalities.

Nintendo Games Website (Full-Stack Developer)
As part of our Web System and Technologies project, I crafted a dynamic website showcasing Nintendo games, capable of basic CRUD (Create, Read, Update, Delete) functionality. The data is stored using XML.

Etch A Sketch Website (Front-End Developer)
Designed and implemented a personal project for generating pixel-like art, providing the ability to choose specific colors or generate them randomly, and supporting the creation of artwork across various canvas sizes.

Calculator Website (Front-End Developer)
Designed and implemented a fun personal project that is capable of basic MDAS (Multiplication, Division, Addition, and Subtraction) functionality.
